

In Remembrance

Text: Kathryn Paulson

Music: Martin Broones

In remembrance shall we eat
Truth's living, vital bread,
For ev'ry one who eats thereof shall live, though he were dead.

In remembrance shall we drink
The freshening wine of Life,
To know the Christ, undimmed by death,
Untouched by human strife.

In remembrance shall we pray
To know the Father's will,
With faith that may not see the plan,
And yet can trust Him still.

In remembrance shall we keep the way the Master trod,
With joy that lifts,
And love that heals,
And faith that walks with God.
